

CHEIRON XX PROGRAM

Princeton University, Princeton, New Jersey
June 15-19, 1988

All sessions except the Thursday afternoon ETS Symposium will be held in Peyton Hall.

All meals except Wednesday dinner and the Saturday evening Banquet will be served in Wilcox Hall. Breakfast hours at Wilcox are 7:30 - 9:00 A.M.; Lunch 12:00 - 1:30 P.M.; Dinner 5:00 - 6:30 P.M. Note that afternoon sessions run as late as 6:00, and plan for dinner accordingly.

Wednesday, June 15

12:00 - 7:00: Registration at Wilcox Hall.

3:30 - 5:00: Works-in-Progress

Horace Marchant, Westfield State College, Chair.

Trey M. Buchanan, University of New Hampshire, "Early Uses of Experimental Psychology in Education, 1880-1910."

Diane E. Eyer, University of Pennsylvania, "The Role of Popular Literature in Creating the Myth of Maternal Infant Bonding."

Louise E. Hoffman, Penn State Harrisburg, "Erik Erikson, the O.S.S., and Psychological Research in Germany during the 1940s."

Dinner in town.

7:30 - 9:30: Reception in Wilcox Hall.

Thursday, June 16

9:00 - 10:30: Paper Session 1: Behaviorism in America

Elizabeth Scarborough, State University of New York College at Fredonia, Chair.

Donald A. Dewsbury, University of Florida, "Early Animal Activists and Animal Psychologists: John B. Watson's 1906 APA Paper."

James Parker, York University, "Research Practices in Studies with Non-Human Subjects Published in the American Psychological Literature, 1888 to 1920."

John Mills, University of Saskatchewan, "An Historical Analysis of the Development of Hull's Views on Secondary Reinforcement."

10:30 - 11:00: Break.

11:00 - 12:30: Paper Session 2: Darwin and 19th Century British Psychology

Robert Wozniak, Bryn Mawr College, Chair.

Kathy J. Cooke, University of Chicago, "Darwin on Man in On the Origin of Species."

Dave Valone, University of Chicago, "In the Wake of Darwin: Philology's Encounter with the Evolutionary Model of Language Development."

Mary M. Flesher, Penn State Allentown, "Toward a Revision of Alexander Bain's Early Contribution to Psychology."

12:30 - 1:30: Lunch at Wilcox.

1:45 - 2:45: Paper Session 3: Themes in 19th Century Social Science in France

Ian Lubek, University of Guelph, Chair.

Gregory R. McGuire, York University, "The Adaptation of Probability Theory from the Physical to the Social and Behavioral Sciences: Developments from the History of Psychology in France."

John Brooks III, University of Chicago, "Analogy and Argumentation in an Interdisciplinary Context: Durkheim's 'Individual and Collective Representations.'"

Travel to Educational Testing Service.

3:30 - 5:30: (At the Educational Testing Service) Symposium: "Individuals, Institutions, and Resources on the History of Testing in the ETS Archives."

Frances Saunders, Princeton, N.J., "Individual: Isabel Briggs Myers and the Myers-Briggs Type Inventory (MBTI)."

Robert Hampel, University of Delaware, "Institution: The Origins of ETS."

Gary D. Saretzky, ETS Archives (Organizer), "Resources: The ETS Archives."

Michael M. Sokal, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Commentator.

Until 6:30: Dinner at Wilcox.

Friday, June 17

9:00 - 11:00: Symposium: "The Problems of Popularization: The Struggle for Expert Knowledge in American Psychology, 1890-1940."

John C. Burnham, Ohio State University, Introduction and Overview.

Jill G. Morawski, Wesleyan University, "Common Sense and the Common Science."

Deborah J. Coon, Harvard University, "Spiritualism and the 'New Psychology': Maintaining the Public Interest while Fighting its Demons."

*mother
Katherine
Briggs developed her own personality theory
of individual differences later was an important to Jung's theory
early 1920s + 1930s
psychology
from traits*

Gifts differing - Isabel Briggs Myers.

Gail A. Hornstein (Organizer), Mount Holyoke College, "The Return of the Repressed: Psychology's Problematic Relations with Psychoanalysis."

Ben Harris, University of Wisconsin-Parkside, Summary and Discussion.

11:00 - 11:30: Break.

11:30 - 12:30: Paper Session 4: Child Development, Neurology, and 20th Century American Institutions

Jill G. Morawski, Wesleyan University, Chair.

Frederic Weizmann, York University, "Eugenics and Child Development: The Role of Eugenics in the Work of Arnold Gessell."

Joy Harvey, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, "Exploring the Links between Psychiatric and Nervous Systems Research in the 1930s: Ralph Gerard's Diary for the Rockefeller Foundation."

12:30 - 1:30: Lunch at Wilcox.

2:00 - 3:30: Paper Session 5: Issues in the History of Mental Testing

Leila Zenderland, California State University at Fullerton, Chair.

Steven A. Gelb, York University, "Judicial Concerns and the Acceptance of Mental Testing in the United States."

John Carson, Princeton University, "Is the Mental Test a Foucaultian Panopticon?"

Richard T. von Mayrhauser, University of Pennsylvania at Slippery Rock, "Cinderella's Moment: The Standardization of Proficiency Tests in World War I."

3:30 - 4:00: Break.

4:00 - 6:00: Paper Session 6: On Personality Theorists and Psychoanalysts

Rodney Triplet, Northern State College, Chair.

Tory Hoff, University of Saskatchewan, "William Sheldon's Constitutional Psychology in Light of the Old Doctrine of Temperaments."

Eugene Taylor, Countway Library of Medicine, "Homans on Murray at Harvard: A Sociologist's Glance at Clinical Psychology."

Daniel Burston, Cornell Medical Center (New York), "Freud the Father, and the Philosophy of History in Jung, Rank, and Fromm."

Reni Avramova, Academy for Social Sciences and Management (Sofia, Bulgaria), "Fromm's Synthesis of Psychoanalysis and Marxism as a Trend in American Neo-Freudian Schools."

Until 6:30: Dinner at Wilcox.

Doing biog. of E. Fromm

7:30 - 9:30: Symposium: "Varieties of Faith, Sorts of Truth: Beyond Positivism and Relativism in the History and Historiography of Social Science."

Joanne Brown (Organizer), Johns Hopkins University, "Almost Positive: Consensus, Uncertainty and the Pragmatic Alternative in the Historiography of the Social Sciences."

Paul Croce, Rollins College, "The Will to Emote: The Role of Morality and Motivation in William James's Essay on Emotions."

David K. van Keuren, Naval Research Laboratory, "Between Positivisms: Evolution, Relativism, and Theory Formation in Anthropology."

John S. Gilkeson, Middlebury College, Commentator

Saturday, June 18

9:00 - 10:30: Paper Session 7: On Social Control and Academic Freedom

Henry L. Minton, University of Windsor, Chair.

Judith Trolander, University of Minnesota at Duluth, "Settlement Houses 1886 - 1986: Agencies of Democracy or Institutions of Social Control?"

Nancy K. Innes, University of Western Ontario, "Edward C. Tolman and the Loyalty Oath."

Charles T. O'Connell, University of California at Los Angeles, "Corporate Pressure and Academic Freedom at Harvard University during the Cold War: Explaining the Dismissal of H. Stuart Hughes from the Russian Research Center."

10:30 - 11:00: Break.

11:00 - 12:00: Paper Session 8: Epistemological Issues

David J. Murray, Queen's University, Chair

Perry Klein, York University, "Interpretations of Kant's Arguments concerning the Epistemological Status of Psychology."

Gaby Netchine-Grynberg, Universite Rene Descartes (Paris), "Toward a Psychological Theory of the Object of Knowledge: From the Empty World to the Human Universe."

12:00 - 1:30: Lunch at Wilcox.

2:00 - 4:00: Symposium: "The Harvard, Hopkins, Indiana, Leipzig, and Pennsylvania Laboratories Re-Examined: Were they Founded, Established, or did they Evolve?"

Mary Henle, New School for Social Research, Chair.

Wolfgang G. Bringmann, University of South Alabama, on the University of Leipzig.

Thomas C. Cadwallander (Organizer), Indiana State University, on Harvard and Johns Hopkins.

Acitation

James H. Capshaw, Univeristy of Maryland, on Indiana University.

Michael M. Sokal, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, on the University of Pennsylvania.

Josef M. Brozek, Lehigh University, Discussant.

6:00 (Cocktails) and 7:00: Gala Banquet, in the Chancellor Green Rotunda of the Student Center, followed by "The Video-History of Cheiron, Part I, Revised Edition" (Prepared by Ian Lubek and Elizabeth Scarborough). Reception at Langfeld Lounge in Green Hall follows banquet and caps off the evening.

Sunday, June 19

9:00 - 10:30: Paper Session 9: Heterodoxies and Controversies in the History of Psychology

Miriam Lewin, Manhattanville College, Chair.

Gail Abronick, Weseleyan University, "The 'Impending Dismemberment of Psychology' and its Miraculous Rescue, 1930-1945."

Robert Lowe, University of Durham (U.K.), "Does Psychology Have a History?"

10:30 - 11:00: Break.

11:00 - 12:30: Business Meeting

12:30 - 1:30: Lunch at Wilcox.

1988 Local Arrangements Chair

Julian Jaynes, Princeton University

1988 Program Committee

Raymond E. Fancher, York University (Chair)

Laurel Furumoto, Wellesley College (Chair for 1987)

Ben Harris, University of Wisconsin- Parkside (Chair for 1989)

Ian Lubek, University of Guelph (Overseas Submissions)