

1990 Cheiron Program

Thursday, June 21, 1990

12:00- 7:00: Registration

3:00- 5:00: Cheiron Warm-up: A Festival of Films in Psychology

Or

All-American Rose Garden Tour, Stanley Park

5:00- 7:30: Dinner

7:30- 7:35: Welcome and Introduction

Rand B. Evans, Cheiron Executive Officer

7:35- 8:45: William James Centennial Invited Address

Chair: Alfred H. Fuchs, Bowdoin College

Ignas K. Skrupskelis, University of South Carolina

"James' Conception of Natural Science in the Principles"

8:45- : Cocktail reception

Friday, June 22, 1990

7:45- 9:00: Breakfast

8:00-12:00: Registration

9:00-10:30: Paper Session I: Boring, Lashley, Skinner, and the Politics of American Psychology, Harvard Style

Chair: Raymond E. Fancher, York University

Dale Stout and Sue Stuart, Bishop's University

E.G. Boring's Review of Brigham's A Study in American Intelligence: A Case Study in the Politics of Reviews

Barry N. Kelly, University of Winnipeg

"The Best Psychologist in the World": Karl Lashley and Harvard, 1927-1935.

John J. Cerullo, University of New Hampshire, Manchester and Sandra Webster, University of New Hampshire

B.F. Skinner at Harvard: Diffidence and Zealotry in the Construction of a Social World

10:30-11:00: Coffee break

11:00-12:15: Poster Session I

Adrian C. Brock, York University
Charles Hubbard Judd: A Wundtian Social Psychologist in the United States

David C. Devonis, University of Redlands
Leonard Thompson Troland and "Complete Technology": An Obscured Link in the Chain of Psychology's Technological Heritage

John Kerr, The Analytic Press, Hillsdale, NJ
Freud and the Sexual Research Tradition: Another Look

Ian Lubek, University of Guelph
Rockefellers and Ford "Fellers": Interdisciplinary,
International, Inter-War Financing in France

Philip C. Rodkin, Harvard University
Blasphemers of Method: How G. Stanley Hall and William James Undertook to Reconcile Their Psychology and Their Religion

Alvin H. Smith, St. Andrews Presbyterian College
Celestia Parrish (1853-1918): An Unknown Early Female Psychologist

David A. Valone, University of Chicago
Shifting Boundaries, Changed Landscapes: The Disciplinary Transformation of the Science of Language

12:15- 1:30: Lunch

1:30- 2:30: Paper Session II: Ideology and Psychology: Textbooks for the Student, Courses for the Worker

Chair: James H. Capshew, Indiana University

Jill G. Morawski, Wesleyan University
Books in Science: Textbooks and the Formation of American Psychology

Benjamin Harris, University of Wisconsin, Madison
"What's Your Problem?" The Popularization of Psychology
by Socialists and Communists in the United States, 1920-1955

2:30- 3:00: Break

3:00- 5:15: Paper session III: Aptitude, Personality, and Pathology:
From the Laboratory to Practice in the Psychometrics of Selection

Chair: Henry Minton, University of Windsor

Richard T. von Mayrhauser, Slippery Rock University Alert to the Halo that Counts: "Intelligence" and the Managerial Positivism of E.L. Thorndike, 1901-20.

James D.A. Parker, York University
Jung & the Americans: Word Associations and the Development of American Personality Research

Roderick D. Buchanan, University of Melbourne
The MMPI & Clinical Psychology in Post-World-War-II America

Hans Pols, York University
For the Lonely Applicant: Rhetoric and Strategies in the Americanization of Dutch Personnel Psychology

6:00- 8:30: Dinner

8:30-10:00: Biographers/Autobiographers Conversation Hour

Chair: Theophile S. Krawiec, Lehigh University

Panelists: Nancy Innis, Lois B. Murphy (read by Eugene Taylor), Seymour B. Sarason, Michael Sokal, Leila Zenderland

Saturday, June 23, 1990

8:45-10:15: Paper Session IV: Active Subject, Active Therapist: Personal and Interpersonal Engagement in the Thought of Dewey, Stern, and Rank

Chair: Lloyd J. Borstelmann, Duke University

David F. Barone, Nova University
Rediscovering John Dewey's Vision of a Social Psychology

Wilfred Schmidt, University of Alberta
The Genesis of a Philosophy Relevant to Psychology:
William Stern around the Turn of the Century

E. James Lieberman, Washington D.C.
Psychotherapy Since Freud: The Role of Otto Rank

10:15-10:45: Coffee break

10:45-12:30: Paper Session V: Origins of Post-World-War-II
Interdisciplinary Approaches

Chair: Louise E. Hoffman, Pennsylvania State University

William Buxton, University of New Brunswick
The Collaborate Attack: Rockefeller Support for the Harvard Industrial Hazards Project

Mark Solovey, University of Wisconsin-Madison
Shattered Dreams & Unfulfilled Promises: Interdisciplinary Social Science Research in the Post-WWII Years

William R. Woodward and John K. Robinson,
University of New Hampshire
Experimental Analysis of Behavior at Harvard: From Cumulative Records to Mathematical Models

Donald A. Dewsbury, University of Florida
"Psychobiology"

12:30- 1:30: Lunch

1:30- 2:45: Poster Session II

Charles D. Corman, Dana Claunch, Melissa Clinger, Regina
Pfeffer & Jefferson Rogers, Florida Institute of Technology
"Newspapers" for Providing a Socio-cultural Context for Events in the History of the Social Sciences

Wynelle Deese, Eastern State Hospital, Lexington, KY
Early American State and Private Psychiatric Care

Katalin Dzinás, York University
The Development of the Revised Examination M

Jan Marie Fritz, California State University, San Bernardino
Emergence of American Clinical Sociology: The First Courses

Bronwen Hyman, University College of Cape Breton
Pre-scientific Psychology in Canada: 1845-1900

William F. Reynolds, Jr. & Sheldon White, Harvard University Psychological Research at the Very Beginning: An Analysis of Secondary Reports in the First Year of the American Journal of Psychology

Nicholas L. Rohrman and Kerri A. Weise, Colby College
Psychology in Maine: 1794-1970

Andrew S. Winston and Daniel Blais, University of Guelph Achieving Methodological Consensus: An Analysis of the Journal of Experimental Psychology, 1930-1960

2:45- 3:15: Break

3:15- 4:15: Paper Session VI: Constructive Imagery & Modularity: Early Scientific Sources of Neuropsychological Thought

Chair: Robert Rieber, John Jay College & Graduate Center,
City University of New York

Mary Mosher Flesher, Bethlehem, PA
Optical Instruments & the Laws of Association: Nineteenth-Century Ideas on Neuropsychological Image Construction in the Work of Alexander Bain and Sigmund Freud

Christine Grou and Harry Whitaker,
Université du Québec à Montréal
On the Origins of Franz Joseph Gall's Faculty Psychology

4:15- 5:45: Business Meeting

6:30- 7:30: Open Bar

7:30- : Banquet

9:30- : All-Cheiron Trivia Bowl

Sunday, June 24, 1990

9:00-10:30: William James Centennial Symposium: Part I

Chair: Harry Whitaker, Université du Québec à Montréal

Paul Jerome Croce, Stetson University
William James's Scientific Education and the Probabilistic Revolution

Jonathan Schull, Haverford College
William James and the Nature of Selection

Thomas Carlson, Howard University
William James and Immanuel Kant

10:30-11:00: Break

11:00-12:30: William James Centennial Symposium: Part II

Floyd W. Rudmin, Queen's University
James and the Instinct Theory of Property: How Science Worked, Sort of

Eugene Taylor, Harvard Medical School
Current Status of William James's Psychology of the Emotions

Discussant: Deborah Coon, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

12:30- 2:00: Lunch