

Twitter Chat: #cogscichat

Wednesday, October 16, 2019

7:00 pm Edmonton time

As part of our 2019 Fall midterm week for “Foundations Of Cognitive Science” (PSYCO 354), I am planning to have an hour long twitter chat. I’m hoping that participants can raise issues about the three “flavours” of cognitive science that we have been discussing so far (classical, connectionist, embodied). I’m interested to see whether twitter can be used as a medium for answering questions that you might have prior to the Thursday exam, or for exploring issues related to cognitive science in general.

When

- Next discussion time: 7:00 pm Mountain Time October 16
- Use twitter hashtag #cogscichat
- The chat will last for an hour after the start

Who

- Show up and tweet. See below if you do not have a twitter account.
- Class members invited, but all are welcome

How

- If you have a twitter account; search hashtab #cogscichat and make sure to include "#cogscichat" in all your tweets.
- If you don't have an account, but would like to watch what is going on:
  - Go to <http://twitter.com/search>
  - Search for #cogscichat
  - Make sure that you choose to display all tweets
